THE ONE STOP
INSULATION AND
TRACE HEATING
CONTRACTOR

Watchmoor Park, Camberley.

Sterling Thermal Insulation was formed with the intention of providing a quality service to all clients on all projects from quotation to completion.

Quality and Reliability remain the foundation of the companies success with the commitment to provide an unparalleled service on all projects whether large or small.

A full range of services are offered including the design and installation of all forms of trace heating, thermal insulation, sheet metal cladding, passive fire protection and pre-insulated air movement, all backed up by a comprehensive computerised estimating service.

Sterling Thermal can offer a complete in-house service eliminating the need to deal with more than one contractor. Our track record speaks for itself with projects successfully competed throughout the UK and in Overseas locations such as Paris, Madrid, Calais, Dhahran and Khamis.

SPECIALIST
EXPERIENCE AND EXPERTISE

In 1985 Peter Deal and Paul McCubbin formed Sterling Thermal, bringing together a wealth of experience gained from working in the insulation industry.

From the beginning the company was split into two distinct halves allowing the directors to specialise in their individual areas while co-ordinating their efforts to continually improve customer service.

Peter Deal, with many years of practical site knowledge co-ordinates the contracts side continually liaising with the work force, customer and other allied trades to ensure a quality job finished on time. Paul McCubbin, with an office based focus concentrates on the estimating, sales and technical aspects.

INSULATION

Armaflex®

In the past, both directors have observed and experienced the faults of the insulation contracting industry, and are determined that these mistakes have not been repeated at Sterling Thermal. All are committed to constantly improving and updating the services provided. The installation of a Quality Management System, a computerised estimating department and the continual introduction of new services underline this point.

From the start Sterling Thermal's philosophy has been that no job is too small, or too complicated to deserve a level of service unparalleled within the industry. This belief is applied to all contracts big or small and will continue to be the cornerstone of the Sterling Thermal outlook.
