Stylish

A minimalistic shaker style open riser flight that is very pleasant to the eye and allows the maximum light into a dark hallway. This staircase has been finished with Danish Oil allowing the oak to show its natural beauty and giving a contemporary satin finish.

Fully pressure treated external bridge and balustrade. Full of character, this bridge was designed and made for access over a stream.

Elegant

This lovely double helix staircase has mahogany treads with inlaid carpet.

It looks stunning in this large hall with marble floor tiles and continuous polished handrail with wrought iron balustrading.

Below is a very steep wreath on the inside of a curved flight, ramping into a tightly carved volute to finish off the bottom bullnosed tread.

Immediately viewable design

One of the beautiful things with our system is the ability to view the proposed staircase before it has been made, which gives an excellent idea of the finished look.

It is normally a very rapid process, from a few measurements on a piece of paper, to a representation of exactly how your staircase will look when finished and installed. Preferably a plan will be available detailing well size, storey height and anything that could encroach onto the landing area and headroom.

The more details that are given at the earliest time (including wood types and styles), the more accurate and rapid the resulting design and price will be. If you live locally we can have one of our designers come out to view the area that the staircase will be installed in to discuss the finer points and take accurate measurements.

Precise and consistent manufacture

With incredibly accurate machines and software, coupled with many years of traditional joinery experience, particularly in the area of timber staircase design and manufacture, we are virtually unrivalled.

Whether there is a need to produce multiple staircases that are identical for a block of dwellings or a single, totally unique and individual staircase, our combination of the leading tools, equipment and skills assure the most beautifully consistent results every time. After sales service is second to none with staff willing and able to offer support whatever the circumstances.

For average staircases, such as the design shown above, our turnaround from point of order confirmation to delivery is continually shortening due to the processes utilized.
