Architect: Orefelt Associates

Product: Eco Line Sliding Shutters

These newly built private residences were created on a back-land site in the heart of Kensal Green. The Houses are a modern highly energy efficient design making use of solar capture systems.

Contrasol was brought in at an early stage to help design a system that would provide consistency across the facades while delivering the form and function required on a high end residential project.

Contrasol provided the steel support structure and fixed a combination of our fixed, sliding and folding eco line shutters across the building.

Most shutters were installed with manually adjustable louvers that can be left at any required angle.
