

Facing Bricks

Exceptional range of handmade and stock facing bricks for the discerning designer and builder.

Banbury's exceptional range of handmade and stock facing bricks for the discerning designer and builder.

HIGH QUALITY FACING BRICKS

Banbury facing bricks are of the highest quality and the envy of the industry, with exquisite plain and multi coloured bricks that are specially manufactured to bring out the beauty of the natural material. The finest quality highly prepared clays with low levels of soluble salt content make them strong but easy to lay, allowing your bricks to create a unique impression on all who view them with a quality and style that will be retained for a lifetime.

Have you ever stopped to look at the bricks of yesteryear? These bricks were often fired with wood and coal which brought out their natural beauty, allowing them to retain their appeal to this day. The production techniques employed at our factory today are modern, whilst still holding onto the culture that is long since past.

The production team at our works believe in creating the same aesthetic values which can be seen in these products, giving our bricks an appearance which will last a lifetime, by embracing both traditional brick making techniques with current methods of production. Quality is our watchword. Our clays are won locally to the factory and then mixed many times to ensure consistency. It is soured in stock to break it down to a fine tilth, before mixing with water ready to be dropped into brick moulds.

OUR PRODUCTION STANDARDS

The high level of quality control continues throughout the production process, the bricks are first dried to perfection and then fired in the most modern tunnel kilns at over 1000 degrees.

Production is controlled so well that waste on the factory floor is virtually nil. The energy used for firing the bricks is also re-used during the drying process. The exhausted air is cleaned using the most modern flue control system and is then released into the atmosphere, making it one of the most sustainable plants in Europe, enabling us to both comply with and better European regulations.

COST

Our aim is not to compete with the mass market, but to offer top quality facing bricks at affordable prices to the discerning builder and developer, thus allowing our customers to benefit from a quality product whilst offering exceptional value for money.
