TORO SHELTERS

Cost effective structures that require minimal foundations

Are the structure options you are considering too costly or not robust enough for the job?

Toro Shelters provide an affordable and proportionate solution. They are heavy-duty, industrial structures that will last a generation, saving you the expense of higher foundation and build costs. Additionally, the ease of cleaning and maintenance, along with lower lighting costs lead to reduced overhead costs throughout the lifespan of your Toro Shelter.

Rapid means of protecting your valuable assets

Do you have a valuable asset or process that needs protecting from the environment?

Many of our clients approach us, stating the need to protect some aspect of their business and quickly. Our team can design, fabricate and install a robust solution in a fraction of the time taken to build a conventional structure.

Environmentally friendly

Are you concerned about the environmental impact of your proposed structure?

A Toro Shelter can be repositioned, re-used, re-purposed and even re-sold, over its long lifetime. Minimal waste is generated during the production and installation processes. Operationally, our structures are 3°C warmer in winter and 3°C cooler in summer than a conventional steel building. In addition, the fabric we use for covering a structure allows the transmission of natural light. Consequently, this reduces the need for lighting during daylight hours. Your business is not only saving money, but contributing towards a sustainable global future.
