THE ALL WEATHER PERGOTENDA AWNING SYSTEM

Since the smoking regulation changes of 2007, it has become more difficult for restaurants to capitalize on this element of their trade and, at the same time, meet the new social obligations. Outside eating is now a well-established factor in the restaurant trade but it is restricted to fine days which can be rather limited in our hazardous climate. A number of awning options have always been available and Deans are probably the leading installer of such systems across the UK. However, whatever we do to make awnings provide all-weather protection up to now they have not been specifically designed for this purpose and should always be retracted in windy conditions. With the advent of the Pergotenda and Coverpact systems this is no longer the case. Developed in Italy these systems are specifically designed for use in all but the most extreme of situations, and they are entirely waterproof. These systems can be specified in a number of timber finishes or in powder coated aluminium and numerous options are available including trellis work, windows and buffer boards. Withstanding wind speeds of up to Force 8 on the Beaufort scale (78 Km Per Hr) in their extended form diners, who also like to smoke, can do so outdoors – indoors!
