

Security Labels and Tapes

Whether it is tamper evidence, asset protection and identification, brand protection or security marking, Humber Print can provide quality, cost effective security labeling solutions to meet all of your security label requirements.

Tamper evident security labels using ultra destructible materials is one of the most established techniques to ensure that a label cannot be removed and then reapplied. This provides an economic way of sealing certain surfaces.

Another popular product is security labels made with a silver material with a "VOID" message that becomes visible on removal. This can be a very cost effective solution for many applications. These high residue labels are strong and suitable for use on a variety of surfaces and applications.

Humber Print & Packaging offer a wide range of specialist stocks and materials for use with your products, all of which are competitively priced. Contact us today for quotes and further information about our wide range of products.